

- To publish research in a manner that makes it accessible, available and usable to the global academic community and the world at large;
- To promote and encourage the reporting of formal and informal research by practitioners;

- To publish papers presented in conferences, symposium and workshops;
- To promote the use and understanding of quality research methods;
- To raise awareness of new tools, books and funding opportunities for research;
- To provide an overview of research activity and developments in Africa, Americas, Asia, Europe and the entire globe;
- To create a repository body and digital library of all research in universities that can be accessed across the globe.